PRESS TELEGRAMS

London, 27th—A telegram from Sophia states that two thousand Bulgarians were killed in the siege of Widdin.

Vienna, 27th—Government has sent instructions to its representative in Belgrade to interview Prince Alexander for the purpose of dissuading him from invading Servian territory. Servia is mobilizing its reserves and sending them to repel the advance of the Bulgarians who are marching on Pirot. In the vicinity of this town several bloody engagements have taken place, resulting, according to latest advices, in the defeat and retreat of the Servians.

London, 27th—The news of King Alfonso's death has caused the greatest sensation here, both in the Court and in political clubs.

The Conservatives achieve fresh victories in the elections. The Tories are enthusiastic. Large numbers of people crowd round the electoral tables and receive with applause the news of the Conservative victories. The Conservatives gained a majority in five of the six electoral districts in Manchester.

Indianopolis, 27th. No post-mortem examination is to be held to ascertain the causes of Vice-President Hendrick's sudden death. His widow is convinced that he died from paralysis of the heart. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

Rosario, 28th—Political excitement is great. A party has been formed to support Zeballos' candidature.

It rained heavily last night. The weather, however, is fine to-day.

It is rumored that a new organ, with plenty of money to back it, will be started shortly in support of Dr Rocha's candidature to the Presidency of the Republic. The paper will appear every evening.

Montevideo, 28th—The Uruguay sails this evening for Buenos Ayres with the remains of ex-president Avellaneda. The corpse has been visited by crowds of people. General Santos and friends will visit the body this afternoon. All the newspapers, with the exception of the Siglo, devote leading articles to the great loss sustained by the Argentine Republic by the sudden death of one of her greatest statesmen.

Dr Carlos Ramirez writes a very fine obituary article in the Razon.

The rumor that Government has contracted a loan of $2,000,000, is contradicted.

The Regina Margherita leaves today.

THE FOOD-SUPPLY OF THE WORLD.

THE GREAT FUTURE OF THE PLATE.

To our mind the most important chapter of Mr. Michael G. Mulhall's new book on the History of Prices since 1850, is that on food-supply of nations. Every legislator in this country should study the chapter and consider the best means of preparing to meet the food demands of the world. Instead of plunging too deeply into agriculture beyond the local consumption of the country, at a period when competition with other great wheat-growing countries, possessed of cheaper labor, cheaper carriage and cheaper cost in every sense, has become more than problematical; instead of burdening to excess the country with a protective system that favors the few at the expense of the many to keep some lingering industries alive, let all now apply their wits to see what can be done at present to build the foundations of a meat export trade, the full brunt of which we shall feel in the mammoth demands from Europe before five years have elapsed.

According to our brother-editor's figures, the United Kingdom requires 32,000 tons of meat weekly, and as its flocks and herds only produce 23,000, it has to import the difference. "The "Continent of Europe has apparently "reached its maximum of meat production, and will henceforward be compelled either to import largely from "other parts of the world or send away "3 million persons as emigrants "yearly, unless the nations are disposed to reduce their consumption, "which is not likely. The production "of the Continent in 1882 was 7,190,000 tons, the consumption 7,270,000 "tons, and this deficit of 80,000 tons "was covered by imported meat from "the United States."

At present the surplus of meat production in the United States may be estimated at 400,000 tons, but as the population of that country is increasing by 1½ million souls yearly, and likely to reach 88 millions by the close of the 19th century, there will be little if any available surplus ten years hence. The author continues, "Australia and the River Plate republics "must soon become the grazing farms "from which Europe (and especially "Great Britain) will have to draw "the meat supply, which is now "mainly derived from the United "States. The actual deficit between "England and the Continent is almost "12,000 tons weekly, which before "the close of the century will probably reach 20,000 tons or one million per annum. That is to say, "Europe will require one-ninth of "her supply, or equal to six week's "consumption, from the Southern "hemisphere."

Here we see portrayed in a few lines the great future that will thoroughly revolutionize the Plate, and before many years we may expect to see the steamers of Europe taking daily cargoes of frozen beef and mutton from this harbor and all the minor ports of this province, of Santa Fé and of Entre Rios. The prospects are dazzling and the press, the Government and the Congress should take up the matter and ventilate it. Our infant meat export trade is already growing rapidly; we have six steamers in port at present loading at Barracas and Campana, and San Nicolas: the trade is increasing much more rapidly than the mutton export from New Zealand. We have left Australia already behind us in this regard; it can compete neither with New Zealand nor the Argentine Republic, and we are already close on the heels of our New Zealand friends, as may be seen by the following figures of the imports of frozen meat into the London market for the first nine months of the present year, compared with the same period of 1884:

	Carcases.	Carcases.
Australian....	92,931	79,038
New Zealand..	313,993	393,405
R. Plate.....	81,068	167,461
	487,992	633,904

Whilst Australia has fallen back and New Zealand is more or less stationary, we see that the export of meat from the Plate has doubled in nine months. There is not the remotest doubt that this country can compete with great advantage against New Zealand, and parties who have lately arrived here from that distant colony, state that there is already a very perceptible lull in its meat trade. Next year, perhaps, the Plate will export more mutton than New Zealand and Australia together. The available surplus of the Colonies and of this country are calculated as follows in the History of Prices:—

	R. Plate.	Australia.	Total.
	Tons.	Tons.	Tons.
Beef ...	650,000	310,000	960,000
Mutton..	520,000	450,000	970,000
Pork ...	11,000	24,000	35,000
	1,181,000	784,000	1,905,000

The author makes the following remarks with regard to this country:—

"It is to be regretted that the people "of the River Plate Republics, instead "of devoting their attention to so "lucrative a business as supplying "Europe with meat (more especially "as the supply from the United States "is declining), have gone into sugar-planting, domestic manufactures, flax "cultivation, and other industries of "little profit to mankind at large, an "insane system of 'protective' duties "at Buenos Ayres and Montevideo enabling numbers of the inhabitants to "prosecute useless industries, at a "profit to those immediately engaged "and an onerous result to the general "public. Sooner or later we must get "10,000 tons of meat weekly from the "River Plate."

It looks like a dream, but one of the most competent authorities in the world asserts that the day is not far distant when we shall see the Plate export 52,0000 tons of beef and mutton per annum, and this to take place from five to ten years hence we may say. What are hides, tallow, grease, wools and sheepskins, compared to a daily export of meat to feed the hungry mouths of Europe? Let sheep-farmers and estancieros of the Plate study the echo; let them go into breeding large animals, especially in the herds. The country is already exporting mutton on a small scale, but some years will elapse before the farmers can produce the suitable horned cattle for European consumption. We want Herefords and Durhams in every "rodeo" in the Republic and all the inside lands under lucerne to fatten them. This meat business will be the greatest windfall ever known to the Plate; it will send land and stock to the skies, no matter if wool, hides tallow, grease, wheat, linseed, etc., all go down with that unfathomable depression of price-level that is puzzling all the economists of the day.

DETAILS OF HIS DEATH.

On Tuesday night the ex-President felt so weak that, thinking his last moment at hand, he desired to make his confession. Father Letamendi, Cura of Canelones, attended him. Mrs Avellaneda was, at her husband's request, present. Having received Extreme-Unction the dying statesman said: "I die happy, for I have never stained my hands with blood, in spite of the slanderous rumors spread during my political career."

Up to the 24th the ex-President had sufficient strength to walk on deck in company with Dr. Del Valle, who was his constant companion during the voyage. He observed to Dr. Del Valle during their conversation: "Death is fast approaching, I fear the denouement will take place on board." On the 25th, the day of his death, he walked on deck until breakfast time. At 11 a.m. he felt so weak that he fainted, and was conveyed to his bed. His sorrowing family followed him to the cabin and refused to leave him. Dr. Ramaugé attended him; he lingered on till 5 p.m., when he passed to another world. The body was provisionally embalmed and, wrapped in the Argentine colors, placed in state in the saloon.

All the medical celebrities of Paris told Dr. Avellaneda his sickness, Bright's disease, was incurable. He wished to visit Spain before returning to die in his native land as he thought. But the cholera and his state of prostration deterred him from carrying out a long cherished wish. He took passage on board the Congo, with the intention of reaching his native land and dying surrounded by his friends and relatives. Death, however, denied him this satisfaction. On the day of his death Dr. Avellaneda spoke with reference to the rumors that during his presidential term of office he had committed many political murders and had even killed one of his servants in a moment of resentment. He declared in the presence of the Cura and his own wife that he had never stained his hands with blood, either from political or personal motives.

DR. WILDE'S REPORT.

SUPREME COURT.

Due to the great pressure of European and other news, our review of Dr. Wilde's Report has suffered interruption, but as many of the Minister's remarks on the Courts etc, will be read with interest—we give H.E's report on the Supreme Court, the highest tribunal in the country.

In the appendix to this Report the hon. Congress will find a detailed account of the proceedings of the Supreme Court during the course of the passed year.

The rapid increase of our population, the fact that the Supreme Court is the only Court of Appeal, and perhaps the vitiated uses of our lawsuits account for the excessive duties this Court has to fulfil, and I may observe to you that if this Court has discharged these too numerous duties in a satisfactory manner up to this, such may not be the case in future, despite the assiduity and zealous efforts of its members.

Influenced by this idea, I had the honor in previous reports to suggest to you the creation of 'district Courts,' and I am happy to inform you that this project has found favor with the most distinguished members of our bench.

It is not necessary to dwell on the evident and unquestionable advantages of my project. I have already had the honor, on previous occasions, of explaining to you my views of the question. I must not omit to mention our Federal Justice, which plays so important a role in our organization, and which with us is one of the most powerful of our instruments and agents of civilization.

Juzgados de Section.—If we read the reports sent in by the Judges of the Capital, we cannot but be struck with the assiduity, competence, and importance, which characterise the gentlemen who occupy these posts. These Judges, therefore, enjoy a favorable opinion in this Ministry.

When I accepted the portfolio of Justice, I found that the Federal Court of the Province of Buenos Aires was discharging its duties in the Capital of the Nation, and as I soon perceived that such a state of things could not long exist, I asked the President to issue a decree removing this Court to a more appropriate point anywhere in the Province. The decree was accordingly issued, and the Court was to be established in Mercedes. However, the Executive, taking into consideration and approving the objections of Dr. Albarracin, issued another decree ordering the Court to La Plata. This was certainly the most appropriate course to follow.

The Justice of the peace in Santiago del Estero in his report expresses great surprise at the increasing number of pending cases. This state of things, he say, must be the result of foreign immigration and the railway-expropriations on the Frias line. He advocates the creation of District Courts and states that it is false economy to continue our present system.

The Juzgado of Santiago del Estero is a ricketty building, and perhaps it would not be imprudent to follow the advice of the Juez, and erect one large building, say at a cost of $30,000, for all the National offices in the Capital of the Province, such as Juzgado, Post-Office, Telegraph Office, Immigration and "Enganche" Offices, etc. This idea, suggested by the Justice of the Peace in Santiago del Estero, is good and I have no hesitation in recommending it to your consideration.

For further important details in this branch I would refer you to the report of the Judge of the Capital, Dr Tedin. His report is most interesting and instructive.

The personnel of the Federal Courts has suffered some alterations in consequence of the unexpected demise of an old and esteemed magistrate, Dr Fenelon Zuviria.

Dr Calisto de la Torre has been removed from Mendoza to Santa Fé; Dr Juan B del Campillo has been removed from San Luiz to Mendoza; and Dr Paredes Miguez was lately named to the vacancy in San Luis.

With regard to the state of courts, I may observe that this Ministry has always attended to their immediate wants, without taking into consideration the limits imposed by the Budget Law.

The Leibnitz and Congo's Mails.

London, Nov. 4.

We learn from Madras that two batteries of artillery, the 2nd Battalion of the Hampshire Regiment, and the 12th Madras Native Infantry have embarked for Rangoon.

Our Vienna Correspondent telegraphs that, although the Ambassadors in Constantinople have met several times privately, they have not yet settled any programme for the Conference. The Porte, too, it is said, refuses to bind itself beforehand to adhere to the decision of that body, unless it is accompanied by some sort of guarantee. In diplomatic circles in Vienna no hope is entertained that the Conference will have any practical result. The powers are said to have resolved that its decision is not to be enforced by Turkey, if such decision be not freely accepted by the Balkan countries. There is reason to fear, it is considered, that many Mohammedans residing in Bulgaria would be in serious danger on the appearance of a Turkish army, and that great loss of life might ensue on both sides.

Our Correspondent in Rome says that the principle appears to be accepted by all the Powers that the Treaty of Berlin must form the basis of the deliberations of the Conference; but while the three Empires are seemingly prepared to carry out that principle to the end, the Western Powers and Italy wish to have its application controlled by a due regard for the wishes of the parties primarily interested.

A telegrama from Belgrade states that Count Kalnoky's declarations with regard to Servia have given entire satisfaction in that city. King Milan is said to have specially thanked the Austrian Government for the statements made by the Count.

Earl Spencer, speaking yesterday at a mass meeting of Liberals held at Dorchester, said he agreed with Lord Hartington's views on the land question. He particularly desired to see a development of the allotment system and an increase in the number of small landowners. In regard to Ireland he accused the Conservatives of having changed suddenly the policy they had advocated all their lives. They had taken a leap in the dark, and had abandoned even the most moderate measures for repressing crime on the plea that they could govern Ireland by the ordinary law. What was really wanted in Ireland was a policy which would reconcile the people with our government, and which would at the same time maintain law and order.

Mr. Bright, writing to Mr. R. P. Blenner-hassett, M.P., who is contesting North-East Manchester in the Liberal interest, says that the great enemies of Ireland are those who profess to lead her people, and who lead them to disorder and to the destruction of their industry. Mr. Bright hopes that Irishmen will unite with Englishmen to send to Parliament men who will promote what is just to England and Ireland, and restore the harmony which is essential to the welfare of the United Kingdom.

Mr. Chamberlain last night commenced his candidature for West Birminghan by addressing a crowded meeting in the Town Hall. He said it was because the Conservatives had no definite policy in regard to domestic affairs that they were so anxious to distract attention of the electors to the failures and mistakes of the Liberals in the past. He admitted that he did not look back upon the history of the past five years with satisfaction, but he clained that it would compare favourably with the preceding five years. On the Egyptian policy especially the Conservatives had always assisted the Liberals when, in his opinion, they did wrong, and opposed them when they did rtght. Speaking of the differences among Liberals, he said that if any considerable body of the party wished with Lord Hartington for an inquiry into free education the Radicals would not object, providing the inquiry was bona fide. With regard to land reform, Lord Hartington's opinions were entitled to the fullest consideration, for he had never deserted his party, but the case of Mr. Goschen was different. Mr. Chamberlain adhered to all the statements he made in London about his future action if Radicals were not to remain outside the next Liberal Cabinet. He trusted that his constituents would support him whatever might be his position, whether in or out of office.

Sir William Harcourt addressed a Liberal meeting at Winchester last night. He said it was not altogether an unmixed evil that the Tories had come into power, because they had been compelled to abandon those things which were mischievous to the country, and because, through a feeling of responsibility, they had been forced to adopt the policy recommended by the late Government. After advocating free education and reform in Parliamentary procedure and the land laws, he said that Liberals relied upon the leadership of Mr. Gladstone, upon his wisdom, experience, prudence, and patriotism, to lead them as before to victory.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, addressing a Conservative meeting at Stroud last evening, said that Mr. Gladstone's proposals were not revolutionary in principle, but the question was whether they were meant to be fairly applied. He challenged Liberals to explain what they desired in reference to the reform of Parliamentary procedure.

Between the 1st of April and the 31st of October the Revenue receipts amounted to £44,807,330, as compared with £45,193,783 in the corresponding period of the last financial year. The expenditure amounted to £53,655,874, as against £49,180,601. On Saturday last there was a balance in the Bank of England of £21,044,588, and in the Bank of Ireland of £493,580.

Speaking at a luncheon at Worcester yesterday, Lord R. Churchill referred at some length to the question of Disestablishment, which he said had been forced to the front by Mr. Gladstone and his colleagues, and about which he exhorted the Conservative party to stand firm in the maintenance of the ancient and constitutional link betweed Church and State. At an evening meeting, addressing about 5,000 persons, he reviewed and condemned the foreign policy, of the late Government, and said there was no reason to expect that the Liberals would do better now if returned to office. Hopes of a permanent and honourable peace had revived under Lord Salisbury's administration. He suggested that the reform of Parliament procedure should depend rather on a large extension of the system of provisional orders, a considerable development of the functions of Parliamentary Committees, and earlier hours of meeting and of adjournment of the House of Commons. It was not extra speed, but more regularity in the progress of business that was desirable.

The cross-examination of Mr. Stead, in the Armstrong abduction case, was concluded yesterday. The Archbishop of Canterbury was then called, but Mr. Justice Lopes ruled that his evidence was not relevant to the point whether Eliza Armstrong was abducted without the consent of her father. Mr. Shaen, Mr. Howard Vincent, Mr. Benjamin Scott, the Earl of Dalhousie, and Mr. George Russel, M.P. were also called. The greater part of their evidence was, however, disallowed, and Mr. Stead intimated that he would not call certain other witnesses whom he named. Mr. Bramwell Booth, Mrs. Combe, and Mr. Cook having been examined, the evidence for the defence was concluded. The Judge remarked that Mrs. Combe did not appear to have had anything to do with the taking away of the girl, and she was accordingly acquitted.

Paris, Nov. 1

The name, address and birthplace of the man who fired at M. de Freycinet have now been discovered. He is one Pierre Mariotti, residing recently at 314, Rue de Vaugirard, Paris, 58 years of age, and born at Omeria, near the town of Corte, in the centre of Corsica. A commissary of police proceeded to the room occupied by Mariotti, and took possession of his papers. They were sent to M. Benoist, Juge d'Instruction, who, after making various inquiries, came to the conclusion that there could be no doubt of the indentity of Mariotti and the man who had fired at M. de Freycinet. M. Laguerre, whom the prisoner had selected to conduct his defence, came at his request to the office of M. Benoist, at the Palais de Justice. The prisoner was then asked to give his name, and on his refusal M. Benoist said, "You reside at 314, Rue de Vaugirard." The prisoner then said, that as this had been discovered, he had no longer any reason to conceal anything. He had been an overseer on the Suez Canal, near Port Said. Then he went to Panama, with his daughter 21 years of age. Not long after his arrival three workmen, during the night, broke into his house, pillaged it, and left, after having committed a horrible outrage on his daughter. Two days afterwards she died of the injuries she had sustained. In making this statement, Mariotti began to shed tears. He took a photograph album which lay on the Judge's desk, and which had been among the objects seized in the prisoner's room. He turned over the leaves hurriedly, and taking out a photograph handed it to the judge. Evidently very much affected, he said: "Look at her, poor girl, was she not beautiful? She was taken from me, killed, dishonoured, and they will not avenge her. I asked for justice, and was not listened to. I continued the struggle, and was ruined, lost, driven away. I returned to France with what savings I could collect, and here again I attempted to obtain justice. All my efforts were in vain. I struggled with poverty.

"After having been employed as an office messenger by the Havas Agency, I fell sick, and was admitted first to the Hotel Dieu, and then to the Charité. On my recovery, I could find no fresh place. I tried all sorts of trades. I had a miserable time, but I never lost sight of my object—to obtain vengeance for my poor child. But what can a man do without protection or money? Several times I lodged a complaint at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, but it was not heeded. Seeing that all my attempts to secure a hearing failed, I determined to make myself known.

"I had no intention of killing M. de Freycinet, whom I did not know. I did not even fire at him—which can be proved by an examination of the causeway on the Pont de la Concorde. I aimed at the ground, and the ball must have lodged somewhere, or broken the corner off a paving stone. All I wanted was to be taken into custody to bring myself into notice and to obtain justice."

This statement of the accused is substantially confirmed by M. Marius Fontanes, secretary of the Panama Canal Company, and by M. de Lesseps. It appears that the Colombian newspapers, however willing to help him, could do nothing. From other information than that supplied by M. Fontanes there appears to be some doubt about the cause of the death of Mariotti's daughter. A search has been made at the Ministry of Foreign Affairs from which it has been ascertained that the latest complaints of Mariotti were made while the late Government held office, in the month of May, 1884. M. de Freycinet had never any connexion with the affair.

THE UNITED STATES.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.

General M'Clellan's funeral will be solemnized at Trenton, New Jersey, to-morrow. Among the pall-bearers will be Generals Hancock, Franklin, Fitzjohn Porter, and Joseph E. Johnston. There is to be no military escort at the funeral, the deceased having requested that he might be buried without display, but a service will be held at New York. General M'Clellan's death has produced a marked impression throughout the country and a revival of the discussion concerning the earlier military movement during the rebellion.

Ferdinand Ward was sentenced at New York yesterday to 10 years' imprisonment in Sing Sing prison, and was forthwith taken there.

Senator Leland Stanford, of California, has given three Californian ranches, 85,000 acres in extent, and valued at $3,500,000, as an endowment for the University at Palo Alto, California, founded in memory of his deceased son.

Dr Noah Porter, President of Yale College, has resigned his office in view of his advancing years. Dr Porter, who is aged 72, has been in the service of the college for more than 40 years.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

November 27th.

Children are very apt to play with fire until it burns their fingers; after that they are content to let it alone, children of larger growth; however, paradoxical as it may appear, are never tired of repeating the experiment. All nations in the world are continually burning their fingers in financial theories, and they never seem to be any the wiser. The Administration of Dr. Avellaneda burnt not only its fingers but its whole hand; but the lesson was lost, and within a lustre General Roca has blown the coals into a flame, and scorched himself and the country in a pretty fashion. As finance is not subject to mathematical rules, every chief of a state considers it incumbent on him to invent and practise a pet theory of his own, and these pet theories have caused more financial disasters than a thousand South sea schemes of enterprising John Laws. There is nothing more fascinating to arbitrary Rulers than the facility of making money, or rather something that will successfully represent it. Russia is a magnificent example; that monster Empire exists in virtue of the paper rouble. Austrians had lost sight of the fact that gold and silver had been generally accepted as representatives of value. Italy remained for many years in the same financial quagmire, from which the genius of her present Ruler has extricated her. In all the countries where "curso forzoso" has existed, there have always been strong partisans in its favour, as there are now in the Argentine Republic; but they are like physicians who live on the ailments of communities. In these countries, however, where a forced currency has taken the place of gold and silver, we find them stationary in everything but armies and police. After the great Rebellion, the United States, with three thousand millions of greenbacks, had inevitably to submit to "curso forzoso"; but mark the practical commercial good sense of Brother Jonathan; he knew that a cheap currency brought inflation; that inflation brought crises and that crises brought ruin; and to avoid this the economic nerves of the country were strained by the imposition of exceptional taxes, and in less than a dozen years after the war the thousands of millions of greenbacks represented the same quantity of gold. In the United States the people consented to bear any burthen in order to liberate themselves from a forced currency paper. In the Argentine Republic, on the contrary, there are plenty of people, amongst them the STANDARD, who glorify "curso forzoso" as the lever that is hoisting the country to the dizzy heights of boundless prosperity, and do not appear to draw off the almost certain result of reckless speculation with a cheap paper currency. All the terrible crisis in the United States had the same origin; extravagant and illegitimate expansion of commercial and financial operations. Are we to form the only exception to the rule? Let us not lay the flattering unction to our soul.

The great crisis of 1835, a blue ruin that enveloped the states from Portland to Tallahasse, from Vermont to New Orleans, was caused by the inflation of paper money. The whole amount of emission was only 134 millions, and the population then amounted to 14 millions, not counting the blacks. In the Argentine Republic with a population of not more than three millions, we have a paper emision of about 75 millions of dollars. Do not these figures alarm the optimists? Is the country not ripening rapidly for the development of a ruinous crisis? The difficulties of the National Treasury should be a lesson to all. We may say that the National Government has been actually swamped in an ocean of gold. The very abundance of money has been the trouble of General Roca's Administration, as it was always that of Peru, who has squandered more gold than would have sufficed to have made her the richest country in South America, and has remained a wretched, uncivilized wilderness, I was never a pessimist with regard to this country; but I cannot help thinking that we are sliding down an incline, at the bottom of which is a Slough of Despond.

The examinations in the Normal School were interesting and successful, demonstrating very special talents in the Directress, Miss Morrow, as an educationalist. What astonished me most was the perfect control the teachers have over the army of little girls belonging to all classes of society, and from six to twelve years of age. I am speaking of the day pupils, not the Normal classes. The examination of these is still going on, and I hope in another letter to be able to give further details

It was a pretty sight to see four hundred children, all, without exception, nicely dressed—all with happy, contented faces, ranged in military order, executing with shrill but drilled voices, the National Hymn. The way the children were marshalled and manœuvred in the limited patio was a triumph of military tactics that the Minister of War ought to have witnessed. There was not the slightest confusion; every little unit knew her place as well as an old soldier. The movements were all accompanied by music. I think that what delighted most the audience were the classes in gymnasia. I am glad to see that "muscular christianity" gymnastics are discarded. There are no violent contorsions of body taught; the horrible back board and vulgar dumb bell are things of the post. They are replaced by the simple and natural movement of the limbs. The younger children only use their arms, the older ones use a short light stick with either rings or balls at each end, with these an almost endless series of movements are executed with an accuracy and gracefulness that delighted everyone. The result of the examination of the different classes, in reading, numbers, geography, botany etc., was highly satisfactory, and marked a very general proficiency. The first day's programme ended with the entry of a class of little Dots of the age of six and seven; smiling babies in fact, the women folks all wanted to pick them up and kiss them. Soberly they marched in to the sound of music a miniature regiment of a score or so. The general thuoght was: what can these little mites do? To our astonishment, Miss Choate placed herself before them, and they sang in excellent time and tune a pretty song. Afterwards these little creatures actually described, in answer to the questions of their teacher, a young girl educated in the school, the different qualities of water! What philosophical little Dots to be sure.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We are requested to state that, until further notice, there will be (D.V.) celebration of the Holy Communion at Trinity Church, Lomas de Zamora, on every other Sunday morning after Matins at 10 a.m. This arrangement to begin to-day.

We welcome back to the Plate Mrs. Nobrega de Avellaneda and family who arrived to-day in the Apolo from Montevideo. Her return to B. Aires is clouded by her terrible affliction, but if sympathy can soothe such great mental sufferings, she must feel much relief to see all B. Aires mourn the loss of her illustrious husband. What she must have suffered during the voyage, seeing her husband gradualy sink into the grave, we can imagine. When he died, Dr Del Valle and many other friends on board endeavored to tear her from the terrible scene of sorrow, but she answered "when we are ushered into the world we are received in the arms of those who are dearest; why should we abandon them when they die?" words that show the great character of the woman.

Dr Pedro Goyena, one of the late Dr Avellaneda's most intimate friends, will speak over his grave to-day. The talented doctor has the fine qualities that his deceased friend exacted from an orator—a great heart and accents to transmit every palpitation.

Governor D'Amico intends spending a vacation at Montevideo, to rest from the wear and tear of that feverish life in La Plata.

Dr. Aristobulo del Valle will speak for the Press at the funeral of Dr. Avellaneda. He is the right man in the right place, and he is furthermore one of the most eloquent man in the republic. He speaks like Mirabeau.

The gunboat Uruguay is expected to-day with the mortal remains of ex-President Avellaneda. The Church, the Army, the Navy, and the Civil Service will be represented at the funeral which will take place in the Cathedral. The honours decreed by Government are the greatest that any citizen in the Republic can aspire to.

The Central Station was crowded yesterday with people who accompanied Dr. Juarez Celman to bid him farewell on his journey to Rosario and Cordoba.

To-day is the last Sunday for the inscription of votes. Our Argentine friends should take note of this.

We have to apologize to Mr. Hampson for unwittingly omitting his name in our critique on the Cricketer's Entertainment, which owes so much of its brilliant success to his valued services, not only as general director, but also as pianist.

The weather cleared up nicely yesterday, and everybody looked in better spirits and less "done up" than on Friday. It rained like Niagara at La Plata and other small camp places. The sweet-scented Boca is also in a very damp condition. We would not be a bit surprised at lots of more rain.

We regret to learn that our esteemed countryman, Mr. James Kavanagh, of Bragado, lost 800 sheep in the recent storm. Several of his neighbours were still heavier sufferers.

Here's cheek indeed. The Municipality of that most insignificant of camp towns, 25 de Mayo, have asked the La Plata Government for 5,000 Nats. to make a race course. What sort of a course could be made for that sum?

A philosopher who had married an ignorant girl used to call her "Brown Sugar," because he said she was sweet but unrefined.

We see the usual symptoms amongst the Elders who have the filthy Boca in hand. They are already squabbling over their own resolution. As the Prensa very properly and sneeringly remarks, one would think that the "saneamiento de la Boca" was something new and startling, judging from the supernatural howl raised about it this time, whereas the very same performance has been gone over a dozen times before, and probably will again.

Our official and esteemed medical colleague says that the city health is by no means good, the only favourable feature being the decline of small-pox. There is more apoplexy, less diptheria, and more or less the same record of typhoid.

Lady—"You have no beaux, cousins, or men to bother around, I hope?" Servant (seeking a place)—"Nary a won, mum, only an owld baste of a husband!";

The cost of "sanearing" the Boca is estimated at 600,000 Nats., and a colleague rather incisively remarks, that when the same sum was so blithely spent on a military promenade in the Chaco, it ought to be spent over again with a still lighter heart in saving the lives of 40,000 people. The row about the Boca has brought to light the fact that if our Ausonian friends down there are all wallowing in their own filth, they are also wallowing in money, and ought to be taxed and forced to pay for being kept clean.

M. A. Thibaud, the young and accomplished French pianist intends, if we are well informed, giving one of these days his last concert of this year, the first part of which will belong to Chopin, whilst the second will be dedicated to Rubuistein. As soon as we know more we shall inform our readers.

The hail has played the dickens with the wheat and flax at Bragado. Such queer weather at the end of November has not been experienced for many a year.

Mr. Arata, the City Analyst, will let us know his opinion of the Riachuelo water early next week. What's the use of this never-ending analyzing of the water of this putrid stream? It has been done a dozen times before? We wonder Mr. P. is not sick of the whole business. The public are.

John Gill, a Calle Cordoba sheebang-keeper, was shot dead through his own window on Friday night, by a man unknown, who managed to escape.

A limpieza horse killed a peon with a kick on Friday while the poor fellow was cleaning the brute. This sad catastrophe opens our eyes to two things we never for a moment suspected, first, that a "vasura" horse had strength enough to kill a fly, much less a man, with a kick, and, secondly, and still more astounding, that the brutes were ever cleaned.

"Wasn't that a good lick, Harry?" said he, after a shot in a game of billiards. "No! Good luck, I should say." "Ah! its simply a difference between u and I then."

The Lord Mayor has promised to give gas free for the Santa Lucia fetes.

A couple more suicides (in the camp) were reported yesterday. It's the electricity in the air that drives so many to madness and suicide. It's the greatest humbug in the world to say that this is a grand climate for Europeans, or even for the natives, who, by the way, are all delicate, and make fortunes for the doctors.

The Minister has refused Mr. Francis Hansen's request for remuneration or representing this country at the Berne Postal Conference, on the ground that he received his full salary all the time he was absent. Even so. Special work, specially well done, as Mr. Hansen's was, decidedly deserves extra pay.

The building for the Rural Society's Exhibition is nearly finished. The Committee have built a special chalet for themselves. What an absurd waste of money.

The Boulevard seems to have taken a back seat of late. As the Presidential election draws near, the odds against it grow daily. Even if his Lordship could begin now, he could do very little between this and October next. One candidate, if successful, has marked Mr. Gregory Torres for Lord Mayor; and as this gentleman considers the scheme Quixotic, he will pitch into Limbo the moment he plops himself down in the city chair.

John Dalls, an Englishman living in Calle Paraguay, became dangerously mad on Friday and had to be locked up;

A Greek poet used often to present verses to Augustus in hopes of a reward. The Emperor wrote an epigram and gave it to the poet as a reward in kind, the man read it with loud applause, and, pulling out a few denarii, gave them to Augustus, saying "If I had more you should have more." Great laughter arising, the Emperor ordered a sum worthy of himself.

Judge Arrotea's courteous Sec. Mr. O Navarro, has fallen ill as well as himself from overwork. We have great sympathy for overworked people, and hope the two distinguished limbs of the law will soon be all right again.

In the coming Rural S's Exhibition there will be a model on a pretty large scale of an Australian sheep-run. Danish and Swedish farms etc., to show how machinery is worked. Not a bad idea.

Some of our riparian colleagues persist in stating that a revolutionary rumpus is brewing in Banda Oriental. Very like a whale. Whenever a kick up in B. O. is threatened our thoughts revert to the London Bondholders with the utmost religiosity.

To-day the Revd. M. P. Ferguson will conduct service at the house of Mr. William Purdie, Ayacucho.

The head at boss of the city markets reports that there is no foundation for the fuss made about their being filthy, as they are all comparatively clean. This is rather a doubtful definition of their condition. We dare say the Riachuelo is comparatively clean from an Asiatic point of view.

Dr Juarez Celman started for Cordoba yesterday. A crowd of friends accompanied him to the Central Station and gave him a hearty parting 'viva'!

The Water Board has again refused the plaintive entreaties of the Lord Mayor for more 'desague' facilities at the Limpieza grounds.

The Concejo D. managed to meet on Friday night, but did nothing except get up a bit of a squabble which was cut short by adjourning and going home to bed. It was a nice night for a sleep, as the rain had cooled the air.

Hundreds of students accompanied Professor Rosetti on board the Reina Marguerita on Friday when he started for Europe. He was very popular with the boys, and deservedly so.

We recommend the following extract from an exchange by the mail to the attention of the Edificadora Company and all architects in this country:

The Calcutta correspondent of Paris Figaro describes the interior of a Hindoo mansion as having, with other conveniences more or less modern, a room called 'Krodhagara,' translated by the correspondent as 'the chamber of bad humor.' To this apartment any member of the family affected by spleen or disgruntled generally voluntarily retires, or is sent, till he or she 'gets over it.' The idea is not wholly new, for Dickens furnished a 'Growlery' for the retirement of the usually amiable Mr. Jarndyce whenever the wind was in the East. But the advantages of the Hindoo fashion of providing such an apartment for every house are too obvious to be overlooked by American architects, whose future plans for residences will be incomplete without a Krodhagara.

By all that's cool as a cucumber! Ferrari, the opera man, has petitioned the Concejo D. not to ask him to pay any rent for the Colon Theatre for last season, as he had an awfully bad time of it, and lost a pot of money. This 'heads-I-win; tails-you-lose' way of dealing with the public is really quite 'trop fort.'

An old woman who had received a cheque went with great glee to a bank to draw the money. 'This cheque is crossed; we can't pay it over the counter, my good woman.' 'All right, sir; I'll come round then!' was the immediate reply.

Important Notice.

I hereby advise the public that I have established a Gymnasium Institute at Calle Florida 406, where I also apply the MASSAGE SYSTEM as studied and practiced at Dr. KELLGREN'S well known institute in London.
This system has given the most surprising results in curing chest and lung complaints, and all maladies caused by the kidneys and joints, and in any way connected with the nervous system. Thus the celebrated SYSTEM of MASSAGE is recommended as a certain cure for rheumatism, asthma, undeveloped muscles, paralysis, disorders in the digestion and in the circulation of the blood, etc., etc.
I have also a special class for the development of the body and muscles.
The following is the time-table I have arranged for the application of the Massage System:
For Gentlemen 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. to 5 p.m.
For Ladies 12½ to 2 p.m.
Consultation hours—11.30 a.m. to 12.30.
Patients can also make arrangements for the application of the Massage System at their own residences.

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S CARDS.

L. Jacobsen & Co have received an immense assortment of the above, being the choicest products of the best makers.
The variety is wonderfully great, and surpasses all former years, not only in brilliancy of colour, but in elegance of design, combining all that is chaste and artistical.
Amongst these pleasing souvenirs of the season are to be found novelties of the most striking character and perfect gems of art, not only calculated to interest for the hour, but to elevate and improve the taste of old and young.
A special vast department, with an extra body of able assistants is exclusively devoted to this branch of the business where a permanent exhibition of these highly esteemed presents will be held till the termination of the season; the assortment, containing valuable artistic cards, small hand painted on satin, ivory, Bristol board etc etc, as well as less expensive ones, will be always at hand to choose from.

BORWICK'S
BAKING POWDER

Invaluable at the Diggings and in the Bush also on board Ship, as small loaves of the best Bread or Scones can be made in a few minutes without the aid of Yeast.

Private Ward, during the Zulu war, writes:—"I should just like you to see the real farmhouse bread that I bake. The oven is one dug in the ground, and is just large enough to hold our daily quantum of two loaves. We use flour, water, salt, and BORWICK'S BAKING POWDER. My bread often surprises me, it is so light, and white as snow. Some of our men will insist that I have been 'in the trade,' and nothing I can say will convince them to the contrary."
Four Gold Medals awarded. Manufactory:—G. BORWICK & SONS, Chiswell Street, London.

Used by those unable to make delicious Puddings, Cakes, Pastry, etc. Sold in 7d. 1s. 2d. packets and 6d. & 1s. boxes, by all Storekeepers and Grocers

Gold ..... 43.20 o/o prem.
Cedulas G 83⅝

The gold market this morning opened still falling, the first sale being marked down at 141.50, some 52,000 sold at this price. Prices immediately afterwards stiffened, and a fair amount was passed at 142.50 to 143. The cause of the rise was at once apparent, as the Government broker sold heavily for Monday, say some 300,000; the moment he ceased selling prices rebounded and many parties who sold short yesterday bought back this morning driving the rate up to 143.20, at which it closed. Total cash sold 243,700. For the end of the month 920,000 sold. Prices opened at 142.50, fell to 141.50, and closed firm at 143. For Dec. 5th 20,000 sold at 141, and for Dec. 31st 243,700 sold, opening at 141.50, rising to 142.60, and closing at 143.20.

Cedulas G were slightly firmer; 18,600 being sold cash at 83⅛-⅜. For Monday 56,000 passed at 83⅛-⅜.

The fall in gold has for the moment checked exchange business. The sale in produce is at a stand-still, wool men holding back for a rise in gold. A small amount passed at 47⅞-⅞ and in paper at 32⅛. Francs scarce and few offered.

Advices from London to-day bring the following:—

"The French steamer Poitou, from Genoa for Brazil and the R. Plate, with 1,000 passengers, stranded in Hyeres Roads on Monday. Prompt assistance was sent to her, and next day she got afloat. A joint in the machinery having given way was the cause of the stranding."

The sale of all M. Ribes's steamers to the Platense Co., which for the last 12 months has been pending, it was rumoured this morning is confirmed by telegram, and M. Ribes is expected out at the end of the year. The Diario states that the Platense line of steamers has been sold in England to the great Scotch steamer and ship builder William Denny, of the firm of Denny Bros. & Co., who will now put some new steamers on the line. The news is of such "bulto" that we must await further advices before we can say much about it.

The news of the death of Mr Peter N Hansen in Denmark was announced to day. Deceased was an old and much respected resident of the R. Plate and father of Mr Hansen, our popular Sub-Secretary of Hacienda and also of Mr Hansen, Secretary of the Post Office. We tender to the family every expression of sympathy at their great loss.

Mr Gibbings, of Ranchos, was welcomed; he reports the camps in splendid condition everywhere; he sold his wool at capital prices, 117 and 122 ⅝.

Both the Tycho Brahe and Garrick cleared to-day; the latter took £9,000 in gold, and their cargoes were as follows:—

The great wine firm, Meyer & Co., moved to-day from Calle Piedad to their magnificent new premises in Calle Maipu, which is, without exception, the largest wine establishment in this city.

Mr. Wileman leaves to-morrow for Corrientes.

The sale of an estancia in Bolivar, 13,000 hectares, wire-fenced, etc., for 91,000 m/n, is reported. Buyer, Mr Villar.

A new meat fabric is about to be started on the Rio Negro, B.O., at the Paso de los Toros Meat, meat, and nothing but meat!

Large sales of wool in Rojas, Pergamino and San Nicolas are reported, at 70 and 80 ⅞. Buyers, Messrs Terrasona & Co. and Messrs. Roth & Co.

There seems to be some bitch about the Bahia Blanca saladero, as the lease has been cancelled.

It was rumoured on 'Change that telegrams had come from London this morning enquiring the price of gold. We connect the message with the pending business of the loan.

Our London correspondent writes us by the French mail stating that Mr Bravo continues his letters about this country, but they do not command attention, as people connected with the R. Plate know all about our finances as much as Mr Bravo. We have received his last letter, a very long affair, but consider it not worth the trouble of publication and but useless matter, tiresome to every class of readers.

News arrived from Montevideo to-day of the death of a well-known merchant there, Don M Concacao de Rocha.

Mr Casey sold the following lots of wool:—
300 arr., Chacabuco, 88
600 do Chacabuco, 82
600 do Arrecifes, 78

The "Revista General" was given round to-day. It is a most interesting and useful publication.

Gold fluctuated greatly at afterhours at one moment all buyers at 143.70-50 at another at 143.20 sellers and again down to 143, all for Monday. The business done, however, was not commensurate with the noise and uproar, and at 5 o'block the market closed weak at 143.20 sellers for Monday.

Respecting the late Mr Cavalli we learn that he was not a Director of the Commercial Bank and that his affairs were in good condition and did not afford motive for the sad act.

None of the Banks discounting, and paper felt rather scarce to-day. The payments for produce appear to be heavy, and the barraquero portion of the Bolsa crowded.

Wool buyers on 'Change report a fall of 8 ⅝ in wool this week caused by the reduction of limits, the bad news from Europe, and the fall in gold, and many fear a further fall.

Exchange in Montevideo rising and the prospect of bills, coming up to this market; we hear of some heavy drawers entering that market. Exchange here quoted at 47⅛, no takers; marks 4.06. A large amount of exchange now doing in paper.

Some large sales of 'novillos' in the North camps reported at 12½ and 13 nats.

Mr Nordenholtz arrived back from Rosario to-day having lost his trunk between the railway coach and the steamer; as everything in the trunk was marked, it is has fallen by mistake into the hands of a respectable party it will turn up again.

The papers received from London by the French mail give the following:—

"At an extraordinary general meeting of the B. Ayres Great Southern Railway Company (Limited), held on Friday at the offices, Finsbury-circus, Mr. F. Parish in the chair, the resolution passed at the meeting on the 15th inst. was confirmed, to the effect that in issuing the 40,000 shares remaining unissued of the 100,000 shares created in 1883 the Board might make the interest thereon commence from July 1st last, and might require those to whom they were allotted to pay to the company the accrued interest thereon from that date to the day when the payment of the amount of the shares should be made to the company.

"The Directors of the B. Ayres (New) Gas Company (Limited) have declared an interim dividend at the rate of 10 o/o per annum, tax free, for the six months ending June 30th, payable on and after the 9th of November.

"New York, Nov. 2nd, 1885

"The imports of gold this season from Europe are smaller than they have been for many years past. Less than two millions have arrived since June 1st. Usually the imports amount to from 8 to 20 millions between June and November. The general belief is that the import of gold this year will not be large, as the exports of produce are restricted."

Hawke's Bay Stock and Station Report. Twelfth annual review for the year ending 30th June, 1885.—

"The past year has been most favourable for stock, and the mildness of the winter season gives promise for another year of abundant food. The clip was light in grease from the wet weather preceding shearing, so that the increase over last year's export was not great, being only 157,152 pounds, but the staple was sound and in good condition. Of the total clip, 13,696,445 pounds, about one-fifth was scoured, and the average was fully 6 lb 8 oz. per fleece over all.

"There has been a large demand for sheep of every description to supply Auckland, Wellington and Wanganui districts; the removals to those districts, as per Sheep Inspector's Returns, were 136,819, and 519 to Sunday Island, being 55,580 more than last year. Messrs Nelson Bros., Limited, have exported, as per Customs returns for the year, 106,448 frozen sheep and 10,185 legs; there have also been 31,661 sheep made into preserved meats and boiled down—in the latter the export of tallow from boiling down has decreased 50 o/o on the previous year, still the total number of sheep taken for freezing, preserving, and boiling down amounts to 138,109, being 34,107 more than used in the previous year. The total number exported by sea and land for the year is 276,497, and the imports of stud stock 2,861.

"It will be of some interest here to note the progress of this Provincial district during the past ten years:—

1875	1,243,993 sheep and lambs	19,171 bales=5,649,229 lb wool.
1885	2,509,033 sheep and lambs	38,943 bales=13,696,445 lb wool.

During the same period 884,000 sheep have been exported to other provinces, 825,771 have been boiled down and preserved, and since the meat freezing industry was established by Nelson Bros., within the last fifteen months, 130,062 have been frozen and shipped; making a total of exports for the decade of 1,829,833 sheep. During this period the number of sheep in the Province have just doubled, and now we have 2½ millions on less than two million acres of available land, of which not much more than ½ of a million of acres have as yet been improved by artificial grasses."

"In reference to shipments of frozen mutton from this port, private advices from London state that Messrs Nelson Bros.' sheep were better frozen and in better condition for shipment than any other imported from New Zealand, and that out of 75,000 carcases carried for them by the Shaw, Savill, and Albion Co.'s liners, not one carcase had been found unsound.

"In cattle there is very little business doing in export; the numbers continue to increase, and our local consumption is small, and but for their value in improving rough lands they are not at present a profitable investment. The following are the quotations ruling at the end of the season:—

"Cattle—

"Fat bullocks, 14s to 15s per 100 lb; store steers, yearlings 30s to 40s; two year old 55s to 65s; three and four year old £4 to £4 15s each; female stock 10s to 15s under these quotations. Dairy cows £5 to £7 each.

"Sheep—

"Prices, notwithstanding the great demand, have been very irregular, but the average has been, for crossbred wedders, fat, 11s 6d to 13s 6d; two-tooth do, stores, 8s 6d to 10s; 6 and 8-tooth do, 9s 6d to 10s 6d; ewes, 2 and 4-tooth, 5s for crossbred to 13s for well bred longwool; 6-tooth, 9s to 11s; fresh 8-tooth, 7s 6d to 9s; full mouth, 5s to 6s 6d. Merino wedders 2 to 4-tooth, 6s to 6s 6d; 6-tooth, 4s 6d to 5s 6d; 8-tooth, 3s 6d to 4s; broken, no sale. Ewes 2 and 4 tooth, 7s 6d and 3s 6d; 6-tooth, 6s to 6s 6d; 8-tooth, 4s to 4s 6d; aged unsaleable.

"Horses—

"Medium draught, unbroken, £14 to £18; do, broken, £20 to £25; heavy draughts, £35 to £50; harness horse, £15 to £20; good hacks, £20 to £25; ordinary do, £10 to £12; light do, £5 to £7 each."
